YOUR FUTURE IN LANDSCAPING TECHNOLOGY.

You can join the ranks of trained Landscaping Technicians now working around the world, in as little as six months, with distance training from Penn Foster Career School. Here are just a few of the options available when you complete your Career Diploma program:

- Use your creativity to enhance the look of a home, office, complex, park, or more.
- Tend to all sorts of plants, trees, and shrubs. You'll know the ins and outs of gardening and plant care.
- Work for a landscape design firm, a building's grounds crew, or start your own business and be your own boss.

PREPARE FOR A NEW, HIGH-GROWTH CAREER.

Put your creativity and love of nature to work for you in a growing career. More Landscaping Technicians will be needed to keep up with increasing demand for lawn care and landscaping services from large institutions, including universities and corporate headquarters. Many aging or busy homeowners also will require lawn care services to help maintain their yards.

This means opportunity for you.

IT PAYS TO CONTINUE YOUR EDUCATION.

The need for training and retraining in new skills for today's changing job market has motivated many adults to continue their education.

Penn Foster addresses this growing need with Career Diploma programs like the Landscaping Technology Program.

Preparing for your new career is easy and convenient because:

- There is no going to class, no need to rearrange schedules. You choose the time and place to complete your coursework.
- You work at your own pace — as quickly as you like — and you don't have to take time from job and social responsibilities.
- The learning materials you need are sent directly to you for your convenience.
- You can study online, through the printed page, or a combination of both. You decide which method matches your learning style.
- You can also download study materials, submit assignments, take exams, email your instructor, check your grades, or review your student records online.
- You need no previous experience.
